What we do

The Eating Disorders Service provides assistance and offer treatment advice regarding individuals with an eating disorder/disordered eating to the community sector, general practitioners (GP), medical and mental health clinicians across community settings within Sunshine Coast Hospital and Health Service's catchment.

These services can be provided where appropriate via telephone; videoconferencing; teleconferencing. These include:

- treatment recommendations
- single session specialist consultation clinic for assessment/diagnostic clarification
- time limited individual therapy sessions.

We encourage inclusion of a family member or support person, and ensure referring GPs are informed of the outcome and any further recommended actions.

Referral

Consumers eligible to access this service will be 18 years and above with disordered eating cognitions and/or behaviour.

A referral (can be accessed via the SCHHS website, the PHN website or by fax) will need to be completed by a GP for risk assessment and to ensure ongoing medical monitoring. Once the referral is received we will schedule an appointment as soon as it is available.

Assessment / consultation clinic

The Eating Disorders Service provides a weekly specialist consultation clinic for consumers to meet with specialist eating disorder practitioners for a comprehensive assessment. This includes medical and nutritional aspects as appropriate.
